SOUTH CAROLINA PRIMARY RESULTS

Featherstone and Blease Leading Other Candidates For Governor.

LIQUOR ISSUE A FEATURE

Smith Has Safe Majority for Lieutenant Governor and Lyon for Attorney General.—Second Primary Soon.

Columbia, S. C., August 30.—With about 40,000 votes from 30 counties heard from it is evident that C. C. Featherstone and Cole L. Blease will be in the second race for Governor. Thomas G. McLeod is running a fair third. Featherstone is a prohibitionist, while Blease and McLeod are advocates of local option.

For Lieutenant Governor, C. A. Smith, prohibitionist, has a good lead over E. W. Duvall, local optionist.

J. Frazer Lyon, Attorney General, candidate for re-election, is leading his opponent, B. B. Evans, by a majority of 17,000 out of 38,000 votes. His re-election is assured.

In the race for Governor and Lieutenant Governor the prohibitionists and local optionists so far are running practically a dead heat. The local option candidates, Blease and McLeod, polled a majority of the votes, while that cast for the prohibition candidates, Featherstone, Hyatt and Richards, was lighter than expected. Mr. Featherstone's vote was good, but the other two fell off from the estimates. On the other hand the prohibition candidate for Lieutenant Governor has made a great race, and is almost certain of election.

For Adjutant General W. W. Moore is leading the ticket, with J. M. Richardson second, and Charles Newham third. Colonel Moore at 11 o'clock had almost as many vote as his two competitors combined.

James Cancler, of Pirreach, who has run for railroad commissioner three times before, is well in the lead, though a second primary doubtless will be necessary.

G. McDuffie Hampton, O. C. Scarborough and G. H. Mahon follow in order, rather closely bunched.

In the Congressional fight the choices see mto favor the incumbents.

Returns from the first district are slow as the polls in Charleston, which has the largest vote in the district, did not close until 8 o'clock, George Legare, incumbent, however, on the face of early returns, will have a majority over J. H. Lesesne.

In the second district, with Hampton county out, J. O. Patterson, incumbent, leads James F. Byrnes, his nearest opponent by nearly 1,000. C. W. Garris is close behind Mr. Byrnes.

In the fifth district, D. E. Finley and T. B. Butler are running close, each with about 3,000 votes, while J. K. Henry is a long way behind them. York county, Mr. Finley's home county, and Chesterfield are yet to be heard from.

A. F Lever, candidate for re-election as Congressman from the seventh district, is re-nominated by a large majority, his opponent, Dr. W. W. Ray, having shown little strength.

A majority vote being required to nominate, a second primary will be held Tuesday, September 13th, the two leading candidates in each contest to be voted for.

The local optionists divided their support between McLeod and Blease, both of whom have been prominent in South Caroling politics for several years, while three candidates, Featherstone, Richards and Hyatt drew support from the prohibitionists.

The two weeks intervening before the second primary will witness one of the most heated campaigns in this State since the days of Tillmanism. The prohibitionists never before have made a flattering showing in elections for State officers, but this is the first real State-wide prohibition campaign that has been waged in South Carolina. All but six of the 43 counties in the State now have prohibition under the operation of a very liberal local option law and whatever the outcome of this election South Carolina will not be very "wet."

While a majority of the members of the House of Representatives chosen in today's election is conceded to the prohibitionists, the complexion of the State Senate is in doubt. In that body in the next session of the Legislature the vote on a State-wide prohibition bill undoubtedly will be close, neither side at present claiming a majority of more than three or four votes.

Except in the race for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the liquor question was not an issue in the contests for State offices. For Lieutenant Governor Smith declared for State-wide prohibition, while Duvall favored local option.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 30.—The vote for Governor at midnight as reported was: Blease 15,466; Duncan 430, Featherstone 14,079, Hyatt 2,394, McLeod 10,489, Richards 4,069.

New York, Aug. 30.—The young woman who shot herself over the heart at the Hotel Astor last night was identified tonight after a day of mystery as Vera Fitch, of Oakland, Cal. Her condition is critical.

RIPLEY CONTENDS FOR HIGH RATES

Railroad President Declares Outlook For Coming Year is Gloomy.

EXPENSES A GREAT BURDEN

Asserts That Conditions Are Against the Railroads—Believes That Earnings Will Shrink During Next Year.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—President E. P. Ripley, of the Santa Fe system of railroads, on the witness stand today before Special Examiner G. M. Brown, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in support of the contention of the railroads that higher rates are just and right, declared that wages paid by the roads have increased largely, making operating expenses a greater burden.

He also declared that the outlook for next year is not good and that general conditions are so considered in the judgment of merchants and those familiar with the trend of events. Further in his testimony Mr. Ripley said that he thought it not improbable that next year the earnings of the road may shrink so that they would not more than pay the dividends.

President Ripley occupied the stand until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and was followed by W. E. Bailey, general auditor of the system, and James Peabody, Santa Fe statistician, who were questioned closely regarding items of expense and earnings contained in different exhibits presented by the railroad.

The pessimistic view of the president of the road came in the direct examination by Attorney Frank Lyon, counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission and followed questions concerning what proportion of each dollar earned by the road was returned to the public in the shape of wages for labor and in operating expenses.

"We are likely to see a decrease in our gross earnings in the next 12 months," said Mr. Ripley.

"What do you attribute that to?" asked Mr. Lyon.

"I attribute it to general conditions of business," was the reply.

"Are the general conditions of business bad?"

"I would not say they are bad; they are not as good as they were a year ago," said Mr. Ripley.

"What is the trouble; have you any idea?"

"I do not care to venture an opinion as to what the trouble is, but I think the concensus among the merchants and others in this room is that the conditions are not as good as they were a year ago, and I do not expect to see as large earnings as we saw last year."

Mr. Ripley estimated the increase in operating expenses at $5,200,000 for the fiscal year 1910, as compared with 1909. Cost of maintenance of way, was during the same period increased $1,600,000, he said.

"Out of each dollar received by the road about 70 per cent. goes back to the general public on one way or another," said Mr. Ripley.

W. E. Bailey, general auditor of the system, gave an array of figures showing the increase in wages paid by the system now over what was so spent in former years.

The discussion of the tables which the auditor presented was technical and the figures required much explanation before Attorney Lyon was satisfied to let the witness proceed to other details. Mr. Bailey declared that by applying the wage scale of employes in 1901 to the employes of the road in 1910, the system would have saved more than $6,300,000, while the actual increase in the amounts paid for labor in 1910 over 1901 was $21,750,000, the difference in the figures showing the increase being accounted for by the greatly increased number of employes.

ALTON B. PARKER RETAINED.

Will Fight Goff Decision In Behalf of Cloak Makers Union.

New York, August 30.—Announcement was made at the headquarters of the striking cloak makers here today that Alton B. Parker, one time Democratic Presidential candidate and former judge of the Court of Appeals in this State, has been retained as special counsel for the unions to seek a reversa lby the higher courts of the recent decision of Justice Goff holding reversal by the higher courts of the gal in that it demands the closed shop and enjoining the strikers.

Judge Parker is of the opinion that the Goff decree is too sweeping as it forbids the right of peaceful assembly and free speech.

COLONEL RAPIDLY GOING OVER WEST

Roosevelt Spends Strenuous Day in Colorado and Kansas.

LONGEST JUMP OF HIS TOUR

Short Speeches to Cheering Westerners Featured Trip—Layed Cornerstone of Y. M. C. A. at Pueblo, Colorado.

Horace, Kansas, Aug. 30.—Through the heart of Colorado and into the Western edge of Kansas, Theodore Roosevelt traveled today on one of the longest jumps of his Western tour He left his train only once during the day at Pueblo, Colo., to lay the cornerstone of the Young Men's Christian Association building and tonight is crossing Kansas on his way to Osawatomie, John Brown's old home, where he is to speak tomorrow.

The people who turned out to see the ex-President and hear his three minute rear platform speeches, were as cordial as those who met him on former days of his trip.

They came dressed in their workday clothes, which pleased the colonel immensely. Many of the men had on blue flannel shirts and jumpers and the women wore poke bonnets. The scene at Sugar City, Colo., was a typical one. Sugar City is a village not many miles from the Kansas line where the people raise sugar beets Perhaps two hundred people had collected at the small wooden staion The noisy crowd of men and women yelled with delight as the colonel emerged from his car.

"It's good to be here and to see you men and women of the West," said the colonel, his face beaming with pleasure.

"I have been impressed in going through this region with the developments of your sugar beet and alfalfa. You have made the country blossom like a rose."

He paused to take in the picturesque scene. In the crowd near him stood a farmer's boy of nine or ten.

"Give it to 'em, Teddy," the boy shouted.

The colonel's smile grew wider. He reached down to shake the boy's hand. The youngster could not reach him and he asked some one to lift him up. That done the colonel proceeded with his speech.

"Here I see an army button," he said, directing attention to a veteran who stood a short distance from him. "You did pretty well to fight for this country. It is worth fighting for. There are plenty of things that can be made better and we will fight for them as you did in the Civil war. We will fight against corruption. But remember this country gives up a union of men that are superior to many of the people of the world."

As the train pulled out, Col. Roosevelt grasped some of the hands that were eagerly thrust above the railing of his private car, and then, waving good bye, shouted: "Thank you very much and hurrah for the pretty girls."

"The pretty girls" had listened to his talk with evident eagerness, the pretty faces being in many instances incased in poke bonnets.

There were similar scenes at a dozen places along the line of railway during the day. Wherever he stopped, the colonel talked to the people about honesty and good citizenship and was always cheered for what he said. The people or Ordway stocked the entire train with watermelons and cantaloupes grown on the spot. They had a sign at the station informing everyone that Ordway is the best town in the Arkansas valley.

"I know you people out here, and

KANSAS IN HANDS OF INSURGENTS

Progressive Measures Adopted by the State Party Council.

SENATOR BRISTOW CHAIRMAN

Addressed Council on Party Issues.—Congratulate Taft For Success of Certain Measures.—The Platform.

Topeka, Kan., August 30.—With the insurgent faction of the Republican party of Kansas completely controlling the situation, the State party council today adopted a platform decidedly progressive.

Governor Stubbs, was elected chairman of the council, but later he resigned and Senator Bristow was chosen to preside during the rest of the session. When Senator Bristow took the chair he spoke on party issues. He upheld the inheritance tax, condemned monopolistic control and declared that more legislation should be enacted controlling the railroads. The tariff next received his attention.

"The tariff bill enacted by the Congress of 1909 did not follow the standard fixed in the National platform," he said, "and was a violation of its pledges. I believe that a new tariff measure should be passed, and I mean to fight for it just as long as I am in the Senate."

Following the Bristow speech the committee on resolutions submitted its report. As soon as the platform had been read by Congressman Murdock, Senator Curtis (regular) protested against adopting it in toto and moved that a separate vote for the National issues be taken. His motion was lost and the platform was adopted as reported. The council then adjourned.

Portions of the platform are as follows: "We, the Republicans of Kansas, in party council, desiring to express our pride in the traditions of our party, feel that respect and veneration to those traditions and for the history we have made, may be most adequately and fittingly expressed by turning our faces forward rather than backward. Therefore we bind ourselves to specific future performances rather than to ask for votes by reason of our past achievements, however great it is. Our platform shall be a guarantee of performance rather than a confession of faith.

"Yet we must congratulate President Taft as Republicans on the successful outcome of the progressive party measures in Congress; the postal savings bank law; the railroad law, and the law providing for the publicity of campaign expenses and in this connection we wish to commend Representatives Murdock and Madison for their work in Congress pursuant to the instructions of the Kansas Republican platform of 1908 in modifying the rules of Congress so that the enactment of these long delayed measures was made possible. We wish to commend Mr. Bristow for his hard and efficient work to carry out successfully his platform pledge to secure the enactment of the well known long and short haul clause, in the interstate commerce law.

"We pledge anew our loyalty to the Republican National platform of 1908 and bind ourselves to carry its declarations, accepting the policy of protection as outlined in our party platform as the established policy of the nation and binding our members of Congress in Congress in both Houses to vote steadfastly and without reference to any other instructions for a revision of the tariff law of 1900, using as a basis for fixing duties the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad with a reasonable profit for American manufacturers.

"We do not recognize the revision of the tariff of 1909 as a satisfactory fulfillment of the tariff pledge of the Republican platform. We therefore pledge the people of Kansas and our Republican Senators and Congressmen to work and vote for legislation that will create an independent nonpartisan tariff commission to ascertain accurately the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, and immediately to fix the duties on the basis of this information.

"We pledge our Senators and Representatives to vote for a joint resolution that will promote the revision of the tariff, one schedule at a time."

Many other progressive ideas of legislation were endorsed, including election of Senator by direct vote, measures concerning conservation of resources and others, and former President Roosevelt is commended in the following resolution:

"We send our greeting to Theodore Roosevelt, the new world's champion of the rights of man in the world-old contest between rising humanity and the encroachments of special privileges. And as Republicans we stand ready to enlist under his banner in the fight for human rights."

Washington, Aug. 30.—The converted yacht Siren purchased during the Spanish-American war for $40.000 is to be discarded by the navy. The vessel is now at the Norfolk Navy Yard. Bids for the little vessel will soon be asked for by the Navy Department, according to a decision reached today.

STORM SWEEPING GULF COAST

Damage to Property Reported in Texas Towns—Fears That Lives Have Been Lost—Gale Continues to Rage.

Brownsville, Texas, Aug. 30.—The Guf storm, sweeping in-shore along the western coast of Texas, increased in severity today and this afternoon the gale shows little indication of abating. Point Isabel and Brazos de Santiago Pass, where the brunt of the wind was felt, are cut off from communication with Brownsville, but before the wires failed several substantial buildings were reported unroofed, a number of Mexican huts had been wrecked, and other minor damage had occurred.

So far no definite reports have been received of loss of life although fears are entertained for the safety of the government gasoline launch Florence with Engineers E. M. Hartick Jr., J. M. Blackburn and J. H. Smith, all of Galveston, and a crew of five aboard. It is not thought possible that the frail craft could have battled long against the storm and is probably beached. When last heard of the boat it was headed for Brazos Island and it is not improbable that those aboard were rescued by the life saving crew stationed at that point. Near Point Isabel several large fishing smacks are reported beached.

A Rio Grande passenger train which left Brownsville this morning reached Point Isabel shortly after noon minus the roof of one coach blown off enroute.

Worst of Storm Over.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 30.—Tonight the worst of the gulf storm which for the past 24 hours has beat against the western coast of Texas, has passed and the wind is gradually decreasing in velocity as it moves inland. So far as reports have been received the damage has been confined to the unroofing of houses at Point Isabel and the demolition of a number of Mexican huts along the coast, besides the beaching of several fishing craft.

Although no loss of life is reported, the government launch Florence, which started from Point Isabel before the gale struck, is still missing.

In the lower Rio Grande valley, while no advices have been received, it is thought probable that the cotton crop has suffered considerable damage. The storm extended up the valley about 250 miles.

BUBONIC PLAGUE IN KIEV.

Single Case is Officially Reported in the Russian Town.

Kiev, Russia, Aug. 30.—The bubonic plague made its appearance in this city for the first time today. A single case is officially reported.

SAD CASE OF YOUNG WOMAN

Disappointed in New York Attempts to End Her Life in Hotel Astor —Identification at Last Completed at Hospital.

New York, Aug. 30.—The young woman who shot herself over the heart at the Hotel Astor last night was identified tonight after a day of mystery as Vera Fitch, of Oakland, Cal., Her condition is critical. The name of the person who made the identification could not be learned at the hospital.

When he departed surgeons issued this statement: "The woman is Vera Fitch, daughter of Henry Fitch, of Oakland, Cal., who died two years ago. Mrs. Fitch and her daughter have been spending the Summer at Atlantic City, but came to New York a few days ago."

New York, Aug. 30.—While surgeons in the Flower hospital were making every effort today to save the life of the fashionably attired young woman who shot and seriously wounded herself in the crowded waiting room of the Hotel Astor last night, the attempts of the authorities to obtain a clue to the woman's identity were unrewarded.

She still persisted in refusing to answer questions. Whenever an effort was made to get her to say who she was, she would bite her lips and shake her head negatively.

Surgeons today said the young woman's condition was serious, and that an operation probably would have to be performed upon her during the day.

She walked into the hotel shortly before midnight last night, seated herself in the woman's room and a moment later shot herself in the breast. She was conscious when taken to the hospital. "I did it myself," was all she would say.

She is about 25 years old of medium height and light complexion, wore no jewelry and had only a small amount of money.

In her black silk handbag which was picked up in the waiting room of the hotel were found three letters bearing the date of August 18th. They were addressed "Dearest Blanche." "Dearest Sister," and "Mother Dear," but from each the signature had been scratched so carefully as to be practically ineligible, although the police thought they could read "Nora" in faint strokes in one of them.

"It is really deplorable that a girl can not get along honorably in New York," ran the letter to her mother. "In some things I might have succeeded had I conceded to the wishes of men (?) cultured (?), usually moneyes, but minus morals. Never reproach yourself for what I am about to do. I can hear you say, 'Now, my dear, it is very wrong for one to take one's life, whatever the incentive may be.'"

A typewritten manuscript carried the title "Thessalia" and under it in her own handwriting was scrawled: "My pet story, which I want buried with me. I wish I could take books as companions into the unknown world with me."

It was a long story and dealt with the adventures of two young men in Europe.

The hotel physicians said that they had found clutched in the girl's left hand a small typewritten manuscript tied with baby blue ribbon. She seemed loath to relinquish it, and he obtained only a hasty glimpse of what seemed to be a short novel. Some one straightway advanced the theory that the attempted suicide had been inspired to disappointed authorship.

"Don't take it from me," she whispered, 'I want to have it buried with me."

"But you are not going to die," he assured her.

"But I want to die," she urged.

STRIKERS DYNAMITE THE CARS

Three Partially Wrecked in Columbus Last Night and Four Persons Injured, One of Them a Widow—Results.

Columbus, O., Aug. 30.—Dynamiters of cars involved in the strike here were more successful tonight than heretofore. Three cars were partly wrecked and four persons injured. The dynamiting was the worst of the strike.

A Main street car ran over explosives at Grand avenue. Two men, C. K. Fraback, a druggist, and Harry Hirskowitz, a tailor, were pulled out from beneath the car when it stopped. Fraback's right ankle bones were shattered and the foot may have to be amputated. Hirskowitz got off with a scalp wound.

A Long street car was dynamited at Monroe avenue and the rear part blown out. The conductor was hurled to the street unconscious. His injuries were not serious. J. Adams Zwerner, druggist, was hit on the head by a piece of metal from a shattered car wheel. He occupied a seat in the middle of the car. There were ten passengers on each of the cars.

Dynamite placed on the tracks at Broad and Sandusky streets partly wrecked a car bound for the cemetery district, and injured two women passengers and a mon on the side-walk nearby.

Mrs. Ollie McGregor, 48, a widow, was rendered unconscious. Today was the firts time she had used the cars during the strike. Roy Merrill, who was walking past the car at the time of the explosion, was knocked unconscious, but not seriously hurt.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug. 30.—Rain and wet grounds prevented today's game with Wilmington. A doubleheader starting at 2:30 P. M. will be played tomorrow, and a great crowd is expected, including a hundred or more excursionists from Wilmington. The game will be one of the hardest fought of the season, the Sailors battling to the last to retain their lead in the percentage column.

PENNANT DREAMS.

Still there.

But the margin is closer.

"Smiling" Al. Orth came in yesterday morning, having left Goldsboro on account of his trouble there Monday, and in the interest of harmony.

To the dopist of our evening contemporary: We have had our say, and have devoted already more space than the trivial matter under consideration justifies, so we leave our case in the hands of the fans, who know the facts on both sides. We do not think there has been anything said on either side to warrant a personal settlement, but if he persists in taking anything we have said as of such importance, we are still hanging out at the same old joint.

If it continues to rain all this week, looks as if the Sailors will have thtat pennant cinched without showing the other clubs that we can play and win.

To our friend the Rocky Mount dopester we would say that his argument that everything broke in our favor is no just cause for knocking one of the best umpires that has ever handled the indicator in this league, as proof of which we refer you to last Saturday's Record. We acknowledge as we plainly said in our detailed write-up of the game Saturday, that luck did break in our favor, but Umpire Henderson does not control the destiny of fate, and we did not hear of any consistent disputing of his decisions by members of the team. Very well said that the Rocky Mount fans can stand the gaff, for as a rule we believe they are really the gamest around the circuit, as evidenced recently when the team was going bad, and we believe the few on the grandstand here Saturday were merely exceptions to the rule.

Yes, Mr. Record man, we had forgotten that Cooper was a "canned product," that is if we ever were aware of the fact. The fact that somewhere in his past he has been released by some shortsighted manager when he was going a little bad, does not warrant the tieing of the classification of "canned product" to him ever after, and if you will look over the games we have played the past seven or eight weeks, you will understand why we think ourselves justified in comparing him favorably with any third sacker in the league. We are a little curious to know how many clubs in the league would grab him should we turn him loose at any time.

The rain yesterday interfered seriously with the forming of the excursion party to take in the games at Goldsboro today, although quite a number signified their intention to go if the weather man would meet them half way. Every one desiring to take the trip should not hesitate to go, as it is thought that there will surely be a sufficient number to get a special train to bring them back, if not, the railroad officials will attach a passenger coach to the freight coming in about midnight. A doubleheader will be played the weather permitting, and with the close standing of Rocky Mount at this time, they will be pivotal battles, and will turn the pennant path in some direction. If everyone who is going will 'phone Struthers' before 7:30, arrangements can probably be perfected before leaving.

ENCOUNTERED BANDIT.

Rough Experience of Young Carolinian in Denver.

Salisbury, N. C., Aug. 30.—James M. Davis, a son of Mr. O. D. Davis, president of Davis & Wiley Bank in Salisbury, who is a bookkeeper in the First National Bank, in Denver, Colo., writes his parents of an exciting encounter which he had last week with a highway robber in which the latter was shot to death. The North Carolinian in addition to his work in the bank assists a prominent druggist in his office work at night. While counting the cash preparatory to closing late at night a robber bounced into the room covering the proprietor and Mr. Davis with a gun. A serious fight followed in which the bandit endeavored to kill Mr. Davis. In the meantime the proprietor of the store secured a pistol and fired a fatal ball through the body of the robber who fell over and died soon afterwards. Mr. Davis was shot through the hand.

Two to Nothing in Favor of Wrecking Crew—Thorpe's Great Game at First Corner—Brandt's Good Work.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Aug. 30.—Rocky Mount defeated Fayetteville 2 to 0, this afternoon. Both Brandt and Boyle were in good form and pitched great ball. The four hits off Brandt were scattered in as many innings. Only two singles were bunched on Boyle. Thorpe's first base playing was high class. Eight sacrifices were made. Brandt threw out eleven men at first.

BETTER FARM LIFE.

President Thos. W. Blount to Annual Meeting in Raleigh.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 30.—President Thomas W. Blount, in his annual address today to the Farmers' Congress, declared that while wonderful advancement has been made among North Carolina farmers, it amounts to scarcely more than a bare start. He insisted that the farmers must solve and take a lively interest in matters about them—the problem of rural educational advantages, the adaptation of modern conveniences to farm homes. He said that a system of tile drainage for many sections of Eastern Carolina would more than double the crop production and be a splendid investment for far owners.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 30.—Dr. Abner W. Calhoun, an oculist, who died at his home here several days ago left an estate valued at $700,000. By provision of his will filed today $100,000 is left to each of his four children, the remainder of the estate with the exception of about $30,000 in special bequests, is left to his widow.

News and Observations by the Correspondent at "Garden Spot."

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., Aug. 30.—You had just as well call in those Wilmington representatives from the clam bake—Col. B. F. Keith, Chas. N. Evans and others who have gone to Providence, R. I. We have done got the inland waterway from Wilmington to Norfolk via Rocky Point right adjacent to the A. C. Line too. Col. H. C. Dockery and his good roads project may go to grass. No roads for us when we can take a gasoline launch and make a swift and sure passage from Norfolk to Wilmington by way of railroad ditches. The northeast squadron will be requisitioned for and placed in commission under command of Commodore Haywood Clark and Lieut. Commander Twining. No more gallant officers ever trod quarter deck. The voyagers will be ensured a safe, speedy and pleasant passage with no head-on or tail-end collisions for all boats traveling south will take the east side and north bound will take west side, thereby avoiding friction, collisions and cuss words. The menu can be improvised any way from Chinquepin, spring chicken, Duplin county hams, up to Burgaw bull frog and Calypso cat fish. Passengers will be lulled to rest by the rhymthic strokes of the engine with no dust nor cinders to annoy an ideal method of Raleigh, with the useful and beautiful combine. This information comes first hand. At Goldsboro there will be connection to Raleigh, Durham and Greensboro, Asheville, Waynesville and other points where the menu can be varied with Mountain butter, apple jack, pure cider and other delicacies peculiar to those sections. Thus there will be a blend and harmonious action between rail and water and no bitter acrimonious disputes. There has been a continuous downpour of rain all day here and the "Sons of Rest" being in an argumentative mood have discussed whether it is better to set back, rust out and drown out or do about, wear out and burn up. On a resume of the question in all its bearings the president of the club being especially fond of set back decided in its favor.

LAWYERS IN SESSION.

American Bar Association Meets at Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 30.—Fully 200 delegates embracing some of the most prominent lawyers of the nation, were in the Council Chamber of Chattanooga's city building at 10 o'clock this morning, when President Charles F. Libby, of Portland, Me., called the American Bar Association to order for its thirty-third annual session.

United States Senator James B. Frazier delivered a splendid address of welcome on behalf of the Chattanooga bar and Mayor T. C. Thompson spoke a word of welcome on behalf of the city.

President Libby then read his address, communicating the most noteworthy changes in statute law on points of general interest made by the States and Congress during the year.

Reports of Secretary George Whitelock, of Baltimore, and Treasurer Frederick E. Wadhams, of Albany, and of the executive committee, giving a review of the year were read.

The opening session was followed by an automobile ride to Chickamauga Park where the distinguished legal lights were entertained with an exhibition drill by the Eleventh United States Cavalry, followed by a luncheon with Colonel Parker, whose father was at one time president of the association.

Visiting lawyers were tendered an informal reception at the Mountain House on top of Lookout Mountain tonight.

CHOLERA IN RUSSIA.

Extraordinary Efforts Being Made by the Sanitary Commission.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The mortality in this city attending the cholera epidemic is lessening. Yesterday's figures for the capital was forty-seven cases, seventeen deaths and 638 persons under observation in the hospital. Eight new cases developed at Odessa during Sunday and Monday.

Prof. Rein, head of the special sanitary commission which is fighting the pestilence in South Russia, reported today from the province of Yekaterinoslav that the railways of the Southeast have registered 2,319 cases among their passengers and employes.

Extraordinary efforts are being made by the introduction of ambulance cars and medical aid to prevent the railroads from serving as distributors of the infection.

WROTE STRANGE EPITAPH.

Self-Accused Visionary Gives Warning to Other Growers.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—"Warning—Here lies the body of M. Theo Kearney, a visionary who thonught he could teach the average farmer, and particularly raisin growers, some of the rudiments of sound business management. For eight years he worked strenuously at his task, and at the end of that time he was no further ahead than at the beginning. The effort killed him."

M. Theodore Kearney wrote this epitaph for himself. It was found on a scrap of paper among his documents that have come into the hands of the faculty of the University of California. Kearney bequeathed an estate as Fresno, Cal., worth about half a million dollars, to the university.

FRENCH POLICEMAN KILLED.

Counterfeiter Uses Revolver When Officer Attempts Arrest.

Paris, Aug. 30.—While attempting to arrest two coiners at Ouillons, near Lyons, a policeman was murdered and another man seriously injured. Two suspicious looking characters having passed a number of counterfeit five-franc pieces, Policeman Grillet endeavored to arrest. One of the men, however, drew a revolver and shot the officer dead. He then made off, pursued by an armed posse.

The fugitive fired three times at his pursuers and one bullet struck a man who had joined in the hunt. A policeman then fired at the murderer, and brought him down with a bullet in the leg. Finding escape impossible, the man shot himself in the head, and was taken to a hospital in a dying condition.

Cards bearing the name of Louis Lambert, goldsmith, were found in his pocket. His associate, an Italian, was arrested without difficulty, and was found to be in possession of counterfeit five-franc pieces.

GREEK SMUGGLER.

Alleged to Have Operated Extensively in the South.

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 30.—Alleged to be a member of a gang which operated extensively last year along the coasts of Texas and Louisiana in smuggling Chinese into this country from Mexico, George Krondela, a Greek, was arrested by United States immigration officers today and placed in jail. He is held awaiting advices from Washington. Krondela has been at large for nearly a year and was found in the employ of the government working on an army steamer plying between Fort Barrancas and Pensacola. It is charged that he was master of the American schooner Bonrino, which was used in the smuggling operations.

1. Every person who desires to become a candidate for the Democratic Congressional nomination in said district shall nototy the chairman of this committee in writing on or before September 1st, 1910, and at the same time make such deposit as the committee may determine to be his probable pro rata part of the cost of printing and distributing proper ballots, poll books, and other nevessary expense, and every candidate shall also subscribe to a pledge in the form prescribed by the committee that he will abide by the rules and regulations as published by this committee and by the result of the primary election, and support the candidate so chosen.

2. In every precinct in each county a voting primary shall be held at the usual voting place on Thursday, September 15th, 1910, at which time the Democratic electors in that precinct may cast their ballots for a candidate for the Democratic nomination for a member of Congress from the Sixth Congressional District.

3. It shall be the duty of the members of the Democratic Executive Committee of each county in said Congressional District to meet at the court house of their county on Monday, September 5th, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of appointing, and they shall appoint at such time and place, three well known Democratic electors of intelligence and a reputation for honesty and fair dealing for each precinct or other voting district in the county to act as the registrar and poll holders and to be known as the precinct primary board. 4. The registrar shall record the names of all Democrats voting in a poll book, and with the pollholders shall conduct said primary election, declare the result, and make a written statement thereof. If any person appointed to hold a primary election shall decline to serve or shall become incapacitated, or is not present at the hour fixed for opening of the polls, the chairman of the Precinct Executive Committee shall have the power to designate some qualified Democrat to fill said vacancy, appointing a friend of the candidate who was represented by the absent pollholders or registrar, if one be present, and if the chairman of the committee shall not be present then the said duty shall be exercised by the remaining member or members of the Precinct Primary Board, and if none are present then the Democratic electors present may elect a registrar and two poll holders and such substituted registrar or pollholder shall have the same right and authority as if he or they had been originally appointed.

It shall be the duty of the said board to certify to the Canvassing Board of the county in the certificate above referred to, the total number of ballots found in the ballot box, and the total number of names of electors written on the poll books. They shall post one copy at the court house door, mail one copy to the chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, and send one to Hon. James R. Young, chairman, Raleigh, N. C., by registered mail.

14. SHERMAN IN MISSOURI.

Addressed Zinc Miners and Flayed Democratic Party.

Joplin, Mo., August 30.—Vice-President Sherman toured in Missouri and Oklahoma today and was joined at Carthage by former Congressman James E. Watson, of Indiana. The Vice-President addressed the zinc miners at Webb City, Carterville and Prosperity, speaking from an automobile. To them he declared that protection had been responsible for the good wages paid them. He told of the boy in the field who said he "didn't get nothing for diggin' potatoes, but he'd get h—— if he didn't dig 'em."

"And, that," exclaimed the speaker, "is what you will get if you place the Democratic party in power."

On the court house steps in Carthage, Mr. Watson introduced Mr. Sherman to a large crowd. The Vice-President reiterated his unshakable belief in the policy of protection and urged the support of Congressman Charles Morgan, of the fifteenth district, who is seeking re-election.

The schedule given out in Chicago as to the Vice-President's itinerary is continually being revised in the matter of hours of arrival and departure.

Instead of leaving at 6 o'clock tonight for Guthrie, Okla., he did not depart until 11 A. M. He will reach Guthrie about 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Wednesday, August 31, 1910.

A married man is an insurgent if he doesn't go home early and be governed accordingly.

A "keynote" doesn't "denote" anything. We've seen people play from keynotes before and there was no encore.

If you see a man performing girations like a big augur, "wiring in and wiring out," it is Teddy, the chaser of Republican crookedness.

"Laugh and the world will laugh with you" at the efforts of Republicans as they flounder around in attempts to justify their robber tariff policy.

A circus heading for North Carolina announces that it carries "the most marvellous acrobats of the world." Probably they can show us how to leap into notoriety by making "both ends meet" in spite of high prices.

As soon as men took to parting their hair in the middle women quit it and took to wearing rats. Probably the only man who would look natural wearing rats would be Editor Edward Bok, of the Ladies' Home Journal.

People are paying no more attention to the double track than they do to the "unloaded" gun. Meanwhile the doubletrack is claiming its victims ever and anon. Railroads are made for trains and not for pedestrians.

When President Taft was elected he declared he was going to carry out the policies of "My Distinguished Predecessor." One sign that he has not carried out "My Policies," is that Col. Roosevelt, with ostentatious silence, neglects to endorse anything that Taft has done.

Good accounts come from the Eighth Congressional District where the Hon. R. A. Doughton is the Democratic nominee against Congressman Charley Cowles, Republican. At Lenoir, Caldwell county, on Monday, Daughton and Cowles had a joint discussion which wound up with Cowles "fanning out."

Our old friend Walter Wellman is fitting out a dirigible balloon with wireless telegraphy preparatory for an alleged trip across the Atlantic. When Walter starts, the fishermen three or four miles off shore will please look out for Walter and take him in out of the wet as soon as his aidcraft lands on the fishing grounds.

The President is committed to Aldrich, Cannon and Ballinger by word and deed. The ex-President is against all three and Vice President Sherman thrown in. The North Carolina Republican who attempts to be a Teddyite and a Taftite will cut a grotesque figure that surely will be the multiplier of innumerable inconsistencies.

In his Denver speech, Roosevelt talked centralization and States' rights in the same breath, but he followed with States' rights to keep the centralization idea from being too terrifying. He criticised and differed with the Supreme Court of the United States, and urged Republicans to be progressive without openly advising them to be insurgents. They probably understood.

In one of his recent speeches Col. Roosevelt defines his "Square Deal" doctrine as meaning that "every man shall be equal before the law." The Colonel surely didn't have that idea in view when he wanted to drag editors from Indiana and New York to Washington to be tried under the President's eye. That Indiana judge who decided that such a proceding would be dangerous to the liberties of the American people knew the difference between a square deal and talk to catch the crowd. The Colonel's idea of a square deal would make a judge laugh.

HO! FOR LAURINBURG.

The woods are afire over the proposition to make a certainty of the Dockery Road—the "Mountains to the Sea Highway." The meeting with that purpose in view, to be held at Laurinburg next Friday, doubtless will be largely attended, and The Star is confident that the enthusiasm created over the project will be converted into practical energy—the energy that will go to work and do things.

New Hanover, Brunswick, Columbus, Bladen and Robeson counties are alive to the importance of the highway, and there is no use to admit a doubt that the road will be built from Wilmington to Charlotte, taking in all the live towns en route. The meeting is to be held for the purpose of absolutely carrying out the project and it will be done. The press of Wilmington will be represented at the meeting and New Hanover will send up a delegation of good men, including Chairman D. McEachern, of the Board of County Commissioners, who knows what it means to build good roads. He knows the cost and he knows the benefits.

We are confident that the sister counties will have live men at that Laurinburg meeting. From Wilmington two automobile parties will leave tomorrow for Laurinburg and other representatives go over the Seaboard Air Line at 5 o'clock Friday morning. The party expects to have a good time at Laurinburg, and from all accounts the Laurinburg people will see that nobody is disappointed. The folks from this end of the line are going up there to put the ball in motion to build that inter-county, inter-city highway, and we are sure the upper counties will see them out. Editor Dockery, of the Rockingham Post, will have to come across with plans that will be adopted like a flash, with men behind them to push the project to the earliest completion.

Robeson county has taken deep interest in the highway project, and Editor J. A. Sharpe, of the Robesonian, no doubt will be at Laurinburg accompanied by some of those solid Robesonians. In the Robesonian of Monday he publishes the first map of any portion of the road, and editorially the Robesonian says:

"On the second page of this paper will be found an excellent map showing the best route from Lumberton to Wilmington for the proposed Charlotte to Wilmington highway. If we mistake not this is the first map ever published showing this road plainly. It seems a very roundabout way, but it is said to be now only 13 or 15 miles farther than the distance by rail—which is a straight line—it may be easily shortened, and it can be put in good condition for auto travel at less expenditure of money, time and labor than any other route between Lumberton and Wilmington. In addition, it goes through the most attractive stretch of country between the two points and Lake Waccamaw makes an excellent stopping place."

The route suggested by the Robosonian is a most attractive and excellent one but others also may be presented. The Robesonian's map was drawn by Dr. T. C. Johnson and the cut was made by Mr. W. W. Whaley, both of Lumberton. The route suggested is from Wilmington to Lake Waccamaw, thence by way of Whiteville to Lumberton. The Robesonian says the road is not the most direct but "is the best now and can be put in excellent condition for auto-travel for many thousands dollars less than a more direct route through Bladen county." However, we would like to see Bladen in the pictures, but that is all a matter to be arranged at Laurinburg and hereafter as the enterprise assumes definite shape.

Meet us at Laurinburg next Friday.

MEARES FOR CONGRESS.

The Republican Congressional convention of the Sixth District met in Wilmington yesterday and unanimously nominated Iredell Meares, Esq., for the National House of Representatives. It must be admitted that the convention named its best and ablest man for the honor, but, with a united Democracy, it will be an empty honor.

Mr. Meares is a lawyer of recognizde ability and is an experienced campaigner. We have heard him when he was a Democratic spellbinder and he is quite well prepared to give a good account of himself against all comers. However, the cause he represents will be his handicap and will furnish the completest justification for his defeat.

The Republican nominee stands on a platform which is published elsewhere in today's Star. It is a typical Republican platform, buncombe and all, and it commits Candidate Meares to a fight for a high tariff, a principle of which consumers have had their fill. There is nothing in that platform to attract a single voter. Really, Mr. Mearers' personality is stronger than his platform, but that is no inducement for a loyal North Carolinian and a tariff burneded consumer to cast a Republican ballot.

Some people are prone to bootlick people "higher up." The obsequious cuss has never learned the rule of standing on his dignity.

It is all right to restore that monument to King George III. No doubt he thought he was right and tried to go ahead "as it was given him to see the light."

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Wilmington-to-Charlotte highway gathers new converts daily.—Charlotte News.

Since the esteemed Greensboro News has swallowed Butler, his platform and all, perhaps it will tell us whether or not it construes the magic "local self-government" plank to have any reference to the liquor question? We remain an "anxious enquirer."—Charlotte News.

Mr. R. A. P. Cooley, of Nash county, who has announced himself as an independent candidate for Congress in the fourth district, has a fairly large order to fill before he overturns Representative Edward W. Pou's majority of 4,500.—Charlotte Observer.

King Harry was offended because Wolsey spoke of "Me and my king," which, writing in Latin, he was commanded to do by the rules. Now there is a report that the break was participated because Taft wrote to Roosevelt, "My election was due to Brother Charles and you." History repeats itself.—Richmond Virginian.

The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot feels certain that Vice President Sherman will not follow Mr. Taft's Greensboro example of four years ago and tell North Carolina Republicans how much in need of separation from Federal office they are. It is quite true that the management took no risk of getting an unpleasantly outspoken guest this time.—Charlotte Observer.

Judge Lyon, who has just concluded two weeks of civil court in Greensboro is justified in holding to the idea that the bar had been saving up two hard cases for him, each requiring three or four days to hear, because they thought, being a new man on the bench, he was fresh and able to stand it. However, with all these drawbacks he got rid of a good many cases in one way or another.—Greensboro Record.

The Republicans claim that the Payne-Aldrich tariff is a downward revision. Now they claim that the Payne-Aldrich tariff has increased the revenue. Is the logic admitted? They want more revenue; why not get it by revising downward a bit more? But if the increased revenue has been secured by the better service of the custom house officials why not admit the obvious fact that the lack of revenue under Roosevelt was due to the enormous losses entailed by the stealing? Accepting the latter view, why boast of the moral awakening of the Roosevelt regime? — Jacksonville Times-Union.

It pays for a young man just entering life to sign a petition for some Democrat. Here is our young friend, Cliff Frazier, for instance, who signed a petition urging Major Stedman to run for Congress; he has been nominated for solicitor by the Republicans. Others contemplating a political career should remember this and get in the swim. Of course Cliff will not be elected, but he will be in the "also ran" class. But seriously, if a young man of any promise wants to be ruined let him go into politics. About one in a thousand succeed in life, whether he join the Democrats or Republicans. —Greensboro News.

Meanwhile no self-respecting American can contemplate without a sense of mingled annoyance and mortification the spectacle that is made by the vice president. Certainly he has a right to differ from Mr. Roosevelt in the politics of his State, and to seek in any conflict upon which he may fall the support of Mr. Taft in any honorable manner. But no one can read Mr. Taft's telegram to Mr. Sherman and his explanation of the reasons for sending it, with his account of Mr. Sherman's conduct, and not feel that the vice president was underhanded, treacherous, and deceiving, that his motives were mean and his methods despicable. It is not a pleasant thing to have to contemplate a man in his high position thus discredited.—New York Times.

The cowboys, the punchers and the Indians know the "Right Kind of Man" when they see him coming down the pike.

Has anybody lately heard Vice President Fairbanks making a noise like he ever was heard of before in all this world?

Col. Roosevelt had better "keep in" with President Taft. The Colonel should remember that he has written several books.

"Vice President Sherman now refuses to talk," says a New York paper. That makes no difference. His actions give him away.

ITCHING IRRITATION.

Worst Form of Skin Trouble Quickly Cured by Inexpensive Treatment.

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting greasy ointment. Try Hokara, a pure and simple skin food, that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so cleanly that it does not soil the linen.

Its power to instantly relieve any irritation of the skin and make it soft white and beautiful is almost miraculous.

Not only are minor skin troubles, like pimples, blackheads, ache, barber's itch, etc., quickly cured, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleaned and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Hokara at small expense, J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. are selling a liberal sized jar at 25 cents, and in addition guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it. Larger size 50 cents.

If the skin trouble is caused by impure blood or if the bowels are inactive, use Hokara Blood Tablets. They cool and cleanse the blood and regulate the bowels in a natural way.

The ads will show you whether or not there's a chance today to buy that piece of furniture at your price.

CONTEST FOR CONGRESS.

So fas as we are informed the contest for Congress in this, the Sixth District, now narrows itself down to Mr. O. L. Clark and Mr. H. L. Godwin. That being true, the Democratic electors ought and doubtless will, consider each man in the light of his fitness to represent the people. First, every man whom we have heard speak of the matter has said that Mr. Clark is the best man who offered for the nomination. Second: There has been and is still much denunciation of lawyers, and while we take no stock in such clamor, believing it to be unjust, yet the fact is that many Democratic voters have come to the belief that there is something in the cry. Mr. Clark is a farmer and a good one: he is also a successful merchant and an all-round business man. Mr. Godwin is a lawyer. Certainly all who are earnestly objecting to lawyers as officeholders, and not hypocritically joining in the cry, will vote for Mr. Clark. Third: There are many farmers who are earnestly interested in public drainage laws. Mr. Clark is the author of the only drainage act under which large districts in Robeson and other counties of the Sixth District are being prepared for drainage. On the other hand, Mr. Godwin has done nothing and can do nothing in Congress to advanee this project except promise and introduce bills that he knows there is no prospect of becoming effective. If anything can be done for public drainage through Congress it will best be done by Mr. Clark the farmer, and author of the State drainage act, than by Mr. Godwin, who could hardly recognize a ditch if he should meet it in the road, and might try to drain a bay uphill if put to the practical test. This last observation is intended for humor and not for "abuse," my beloved.

Fourth: Mr. Clark has passed through one campaign and come out unscathed, without one charge of unfair methods used by him. Mr. Godwin's methods throughout the district have in many instances been unfair and in some, actually scandalous.

Mr. Clark agreed from the start to submit the legality of his nomination to his party courts. Mr. Godwin refused to abide by the party machinery.

The State Committee took the matter up and appointed a committee of trusted Statesmen who met and considered the contest in all its phases. Mr. Clark offered to abide by their decision at once—and while his friends hoped that they would decide it by party law and not go outside upon the sea of speculation to give Mr. Godwin another chance—he accepts their decision fully and will appeal to the people to sustain him.

Mr. Godwin steadfastly avoided making the promise to abide the decision of the "harmony committee," until near the last moments of the committee's last session.

Now, for these considerations and others which more seriously affect Mr. Godwin's fitness to represent the people, and especially Democrats, in Congress, we shall vote for and ask others to support Mr. Clark, a strong man, an enterprising citizen, a Christian gentleman, who is generally reputed to be the "best man."—Maxton Scottish Chief.

SALISBURY CONVENTION.

Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of Lutheran Synod.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Salisbury, N. C., Aug. 30.—The 25th annual convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the North Carolina Synod of the Lutheran church, has been in session here since Friday afternoon. This is the silver jubilee of the convention and hence is full of interest. The convention has had a remarkable growth in these 25 years. Affiliated with it are now 87 auxiliary societies with a membership of 3,400. This year the organization raised $4,180. Charlotte is the banner with $401 to its credit while the children's society of Union gets the banner for the largest per capita contribution with Asbury, of Winson-Salem a close second. The old officers have been re-elected. What adds greatly to the interest of the gathering is the presence of Rev. A. J. Stirewalt, who is faithfully laboring in Japan. His messages are most helpful and inspiring.

Last night the exercises were in charge of the young people and the programme was most interesting. For the most part the speakers were young men and women who have volunteered for the foreign field. Of these, there are six in the Synod. Salisbury has received the convention with open arms. The good Lutherans here gave a splendid reception to the delegates and visitors on the opening night. Wilmington is represented in the convention by three or more representatives.

RIVAL CONSULS CONFLICT.

Representatives of Both Estrada and Madriz at Washington.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The complicated situation in New York, resulting from the rival claims of the Madriz and Estrada consuls has been called to the attention of the State Department. Commercial interests wanted to know which one of the consuls should be recognized by them, and thought the State Department might solve the riddle.

The response of the Department was, however, that the authority of consuls was determined by the domestic laws of their country and not by the government to which they were accredited. The United States, nevertheless, has recognized the right of Bolanos to certify invoices for shipments to the eastern coast of Nicaragua under the control of the Estrada faction, and of Strauss to shipments to the section held until recently by Madriz, or the western coast.

Now that Madriz is out, it is believed that the State Department within the next few days will take steps amounting to the recognition of the right of Bolanos to certify for the whole of the Central American Republic.

NASH COUNTY AFFAIRS.

Criminal Court in Session—Negro Committed—Republicans Active.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Nashville, N. C., Aug. 30.—Nash county court for the trial of criminal cases convened yesterday. Judge R. B. Peebles, of Northampton, is presiding and Mr. C. C. Daniels, of Wilson, solicitor, is looking after the interest of the State. Only cases of minor importance have been tried so far. The charge of Judge Peebles to the grand jury was interesting and contained much sound advice to grand jurors and the public at large. The trial of cases moves along rapidly under the direction of Judge Peebles. Several negroes are in jail charged with capital crimes, but so far the grand jury has not returned true bills.

William Winstead, a negro about 12 years old, has been landed in Nash jail, for shooting a negro by the name of Smith, said to be his step father. Smith was advancing on the boy with a pole, it is said, and the boy shot with a shot gun blowing the top of the man's head off. It is not known whether the case will be tried at this term of court. The boy will plead self defense.

The Republican executive committee consisting of seven men and John C. Matthews, chairman, will meet here this afternoon to name the Republican county ticket. It has been nearly two weeks since the Republicans started on their hunt for available material. All sorts of overtures, it is said, have been made to prominent Democrats, but the Democrats have refused to be sacrificed in the cause.

ROBBED MAN IN PRISON

Daring Robbery of Pair of Trousers at City Hall Yesterday Morning. Thief Arrested, Confessed and Sentenced.

Succumbing again to his innate desire for things that do not belong to him and displaying contemptuous disregard for the police, Sam Rivenbark, a young white man, well known in court circles, quietly entered the compartment of the City Hall in which are located the white prison cells at an early hour yesterday morning and stole from the hammock in one of the cells a pair of trousers belonging to Jordan McIver, a young white man, who had requested lodging for the night at the city institution. Jordan was occupying the upper hammock in the cell in which his trousers lay, but Rivenbark entered and departed so quietly that he did not know of his loss until some minutes later.

McIver was asleep until 12:50 o'clock when he was awakened by the entrance of officers with M. G. Silvia, charged with drunkenness. His trousers at thas time were where he had left them. Shortly thereafter he saw a "tramp looking" fellow enter from the side door and then quickly depart. After some minutes had passed McIver crawled down from the upper hammock and reached over on the first hammock for his trousers. They were gone. The officers were called and began a search of the prison cells for the missing garment. McIver was in a sad plight, no mistaking that fact. The search of the officers failed to reveal the hiding place of the trousers. The officers went out in front of the hall and took a seat to cool off, for the night was rather warm, especially inside the building. Shortly before 2 o'clock Sam Rivenbark was seen to cross the street at Third and Princess and went to the City Hall pump to get a drink of water. Knowing his fondness for things that do not belong to him, the officers called Rivenbark. He was asked by Assistant Chief of Police Woolard if he had been in the rear of the City Hall building during the night. He replied that he had not, but there was something in the tone of the young man's voice that aroused suspicion. Chief Woolard, Sergeant Grimsley and Patrolman W. C. Moore, the latter being in charge of the patrol wagon in the absence of Officer Dew, who is on his vacation, put their heads together. Chief Woolard directed that Rivenbark be taken to McIver's cell to see if he could identify him as the person he saw enter the corridor a short time before, while he (Chief Woolard) went across the street to ask some questions of persons who had probably seen Rivenbark before the officers spied him. McIver identified Rivenbark as the man who entered the corridor shortly after Silvia's incarceration. The officers were then satisfied that Rivenbark got the trousers and put him through the "sweating" process. Finally, Rivenbark gave in under the fire of questions and admitted that he stole the trousers and stated that he hid them in the court in a water pipe. The trousers were found where Rivenbark said he put them.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning Rivenbark was found guilty of the charge of larceny and was sentenced to six months on the county roads. The young man is apparently mentally unbalanced. He has been in court many times and has served several terms on the county roads.

The next case called in the Recorder's court was one against M. G. Silvia, a well known white contractor, who was charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He appeared in court in an intoxicated condition and the Recorder ordered the officers to take charge of the man until today's session. During the trial of another case Silvia began to talk openly in court, saying among other things that he was put in his cell perfectly sober and that the whiskey which made him drunk was secured in his cell. He would not listen to the admonition of officers to keep quiet and the Recorder ordered him sent to jail for 30 days for contempt of court. Silvia fought and cursed the officers who started at once to take him to prison. It was with considerable difficulty that he was gotten to the jail.

Charles Smith, a blind colored man, was arraigned on the charge of drunkenness. Patrolman C. A. Bradshaw, who made the arrest, was not in court and a fine of $5 was entered against him. The case against the negro was dismissed and he was released.

Cases against C. T. Croom, a white man, charged with assault, were again continued, this time until Thursday on account of the illness of one of the prosecuting witnesses.

O. R. Parker, a young white man, formerly a driver for the City Laundry, was called to answer the charge of larceny of laundry in six different cases, being sent over from Justice Harriss' court. Marsden Bellamy, Esq., represented the prosecution. A. J. Marshall, Esq., and Kellum & Loughlin, who had been retained by the defendant, withdrew from the case in court yesterday. The warrants against Parker were changed to forcible trespass and judgment suspended upon payment of costs, which amounts to about $32. The defendant also agreed, in conference with Mr. J. O. Hinton, manager of the City Laundry, to indemnify the laundry in the sum of $100 for any losses it may have sustained, and the money was paid over.

Mr. H. C. Colerider Here.

Mr. H. C. Colerider, of Fayetteville, was among yesterday's visitors to the city, having been a delegate to the Republican Congressional Convention. Mr. Colerider is developing a valuable residence property site in Fayetteville and will announce a little later in the advertising columns of the paper his plans for the development in this fast growing city.

NEW COTTON SEASON BEGINS

Tomorrow Marks Opening of Season 1910-11 With Good Crop Prospects—Receipts of 311,428 Bales Past Year.

With crop prospects reported generally good throughout the cotton belt, and more than an average yield expected, the new crop season begins tomorrow, September 1st, and will mark the close of a season in which prices have soared up to the highest point since the Civil War, finally reaching 20 cents, which proved a spectacular culmination for August shorts on the New York exchange this week.

Cotton from various points will begin arriving at the port of Wilmington within the next few days for foreign shipment, this port having the record of being the fourth largest exporting point for the staple in the world. No estimates of a local nature concerning the general prospects has so far been made, but in accordance with crop reports from throughout the surrounding section everything points to a promising season.

While Wilmington has fallen short, like all other Southern points of export, on account of the short crop year, the receipts here during the season 1909-10 are 311,428 bales. October was the record month of the year during which period 117,592 bales were received, with September in second place with 73,037. In past years September has usually been a good month for receipts here and there has been no reports to the contrary for the new season beginning tomorrow.

The receipts by months, according to statistics at the Chamber of Commerce, are given as follows for the season which ends today: September 73,037; October 117,592; November 48,296; December 31,008; January 10,808; February 8,213; March 4,589; April 9,969; May 6,704; June 980; July 137; August 105.

The new season will begin with about 158 bales of the staple at the compresses of Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, among the best known cotton exporters of the South, and the time when the compresses begin work and steamers begin loading will be determined by the volume of receipts of the staple.

HANDSOME NEW FRONT.

Messrs. Shrier & Solomon Making Improvements at Their Store.

The store of Messrs. Shrier & Solomon, at southeast corner of Front and Princess streets, is just now undergoing very material improvements in the installation of a brand new plate glass front that will enhance the beauty of the building very much. Instead of the entrance immediately on the corner, the entrance will be made on Front street, and the space now utilized by the double street entrance will give place to handsome solid plate glass show windows that will be made quite attractive. Workmen began the improvements yesterday and the work will be pushed to a rapid completion. It is the purpose of the firm to make theirs one of the prettiest and most attractive store fronts in the city. There will be large and ample room for the display of goods and an entrance from the Front street side that will be wide and inviting.

Mr. and Mrs. Pittman will make their home in Wilmington. Mr. Pittman being foreman of the printing establishment of the Wilmington Stamp Works, on Princess street. REPUBLICANS NAME MEARES

Wilmington Lawyer Nominated for Congress in Sixth District at Convention Here Yesterday—Ringing Speech of Acceptance.

The Republicans of the Sixth Congressional District in convention at the Court House in this city, yesterday afternoon nominated Iredell Meares, Esq., of this city, by acclamation as the candidate for Congress in this district to make the race against the candidate that will be put in the field by the Democrats.

Of course, the nomination was accepted and in a ringing speech. The convention also adopted resolutions and a platform; elected the executive committeemen for the district; endorsed the Greensboro Daily News and went on record as favoring the establishment of a Republican paper in this district, there being no party organ in the district at the present time.

Owing to the heavy downpour of rain which prevailed throughout the day, it was some minutes after 1 o'clock when the convention was called to order by Mr. R. S. White, of Bladen county, secretary of the Congressional Executive Committee. He called C. Ed. Taylor, Esq., of Southport, to the chair to act as temporary chairman. A roll call of counties showed all represented except Harnett, which has 11 votes in the convention. There being no contested delegates the appointment of a committee on credentials was not necessary. A motion to make the temporary organization permanent was resisted by Irvin B. Tucker, Esq., of Whiteville, who had no objection to Mr. Taylor as chairman but thought for various reasons Col. A. H. Slocomb, of Cumberland, would be the man for the chairmanship. Mr. Taylor asked that the motion to make him permanent chairman be withdrawn. This was done and Col. Slocomb was unanimously chosen permanent chairman. He was escorted to the chair by Mr. J. Johnson, of Brunswick, and Mr. J. W. Brooks, of New Hanover. Col. Slocomb thanked the convention for the honor and declared that there was no comparison in this convention and the one held at Wrightsville by the Democrats. The Republican party, he said, had taken on new life. As remarked by the temporary chairman one hardly knew whether there would be a Democratic candidate for Congress in this district or not. The Democratic party has no principles upon which to fight; the party is torn asunder. The chairman was pleased to note on a recent visit to several rural sections the growth of the independent vote—a harbinger of victory for the Republican party, he said, and "we believe," he continued, "that today we will nominate a man who will win the election in November. Col. Slocomb then called for nominations for permanent secretary. On motion Mr. R. S. White was elected to this position.

Postmaster Thomas E. Wallace, who, it will appear from a reading of the report of the meeting, had everything his own way in the convention, was recognized by the chairman. The postmaster said that at conventions of this character it was customary to declare principles and adopt a platform, he, therefore, moved the appointment of a committee on platform and resolutions. The motion prevailed and the chairman named the following as the committee: Thos. E. Wallace, of Wilmington; R. W. Davis, of Southport; R. S. White, of Bladen; S. A. Edmunds, of Robeson; A. H. McCaskill, of Cumberland; T. H. Ramsbottom, of Columbus.

When the committee had retired to pass upon a platform and resolutions Irvin B. Tucker, Esq., of Whiteville, was called upon for a speech. He declined to respond as did also Mr. D. L. Gore, of Wilmington. Mr. B. F. McLean, of Robeson county, responded briefly. Louis Goodman, Esq., in beginning a short speech, spoke of the harmonious State convention recently held in Greensboro and the impression it produced upon him. He also spoke of the turbulent Democratic Congressional convention held at Wrightsville and declared that when he recalled scenes of that convention, in striking contrast to the one he was then participating in, he congratulated himself upon being able to belong to the Republican party. He declared that for the first time in 14 years the party had an opportunity to carry the district and urged all to work together with that end in view.

C. Ed. Taylor, Esq., of Southport, being called upon for a speech, said that he was never able to make an oration but was always ready to say something for the Republican party. He believed this was the opportunity of the Republicans of the district; the chances, he said, were favorable for the election of a Congressman. He said a great trouble heretofore had been that the Republicans have not given their support to the nominee and urged them to work with one end in view this November, the election of the choice of the convention.

Platform Adopted.

At this juncture the committee announced its readiness to make report, which was read by Postmaster T. E. Wallace, who evidently drafted the paper, and is as follows:

1. We affirm our allegiance to the principles of the National Republican party, as stated in the platform adopted at the last convention, emphasizing the adherence of the party to the long established American policy of protection, tested by time and experience, as particularly essential to the greater development of Southern resources, and as making for the benefit of the laborer, the farmer, and all classes of our citizens alike.

2. We commend the progressive legislation of the last congress, enacted by the Republican majority, and congratulate the country upon the great achievements of President Taft in the wise executive direction of the nation's affairs.

3. We affirm our allegiance to the policies declared in the platform of the State Republican party, recently adopted at its State convention, and particularly emphasize, as directly affecting the people of this Congressional District, that declaration therein contained, which reads:

"We re-affirm our allegiance to the time-honored principles of local self-government, and we denounce the successive betrayals of that principle by our opponents, who long vaunted themselves its champion."

For, after a Democratic district convention held at Wrightsville, to nominate a congressional candidate, which has been aptly described by Democratic journals, as "a disgusting and uncontrollable orgie or carmagnole," "like a mob of howling dervishes," the Democratic State Executive Committee invalidates the action of that convention, in its effort to nominate two candidates, and orders precinct primaries for the district, appointing a returning board to sit at Raleigh, composed of non-residents of the district, there to receive the returns and declare the nominee: thereby placing as one of the Democratic Congressional candidates in a published interview declares, the Democracy of the Sixth Congressional District in the hands of non-resident receivers. We direct attention to these evidences by Democratic leaders, of distrust in the capacity of the Democratic voters of this district to govern themselves, as a convincing act of repudiation of the principle of local self-government, and we invoke all good citizens to unite with us in the maintenance of this cardinal doctrine of our government, State and National.

We believe that conditions in this State and Nation call for the highest exercise of the independent thought and action of the electorate.

We believe, as long as the American citizen exercises his franchise in voting for men and measures as his intelligence dictates, that our country will be safe, whether one party or the other prevails; and, on the contrary, its dangers will come to it from a blind allegiance to political organizations from prejudice, passion or mistaken loyalty.

It is the duty, we contend, of every citizen of North Carolina, in the exercise of his franchise to make his vote represent his individual convictions upon public questions.

We believe the time has come in the history of the State when men who were born and educated to the thought of individual independence and action should arraign themselves with that aggregation of citizenship in the political parties of the nation which he believes will best conserve the highest ends of our government; that, for a man who disapproves of the measures of any political organization and yet remains in that fold, voting for its supremacy, does himself a moral wrong in destroying his own force as an elector, and thwarts his individual development as a free man, in a fetish loyalty to party and a subserviency to party boss-ism.

We believe, as between the two great parties, that the policy, both internal and foreign, of the Republican party, is more progressive and constructive than that of the national Democratic party; that the greater proportion in the North and West of the intelligent farmers, mechanics, professional and business men are segregated in that national organization, and that the natural alignment, apart from political prejudices, of the like classes of citizenship of the South, is with that aggregation which composes the national Republican party; and that the national Democratic party, in its policy of continual opposition and negation, has ceased to be a party of construction and progress, and its triumph in the forthcoming election would be a menace to the interests of our nation.

We, therefore, invite all citizens of this district, without regard to past party affiliations, to co-operate with us in the maintenance of the purposes here declared and the election of a Republican Congressman, whose abilities and character will place this district in touch and unison with the dominant party of the nation, a party of constructive and progressive achievements.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted upon motion of Mr. McLean.

The convention then entered upon the election of executive committeemen for the district, the following being nominated and unanimously elected:

R. S. White—Bladen.
J. Johnson—Brunswick.
S. L. Smith—Columbus.
A. H. Slocum—Cumberland.
Walter Byrd—Harnett.
Samuel King—New Hanover.
B. F. McLean—Robeson.

The matter of electing a chairman of the committee was discussed, it being finally decided to postpone action until after the candidate for Congress had been chosen and then select the man who would favor inasmuch as the chairman is expected to be a sort of campaign manager for the candidate.

Nominating Speeches.

Chairman Slocumb announced that nomination of candidates was in order and asked the secretary to call the roll of counties. Bladen yielded to New Hanover and Mr. E. H. Freeman, Republican candidate for sheriff in this county, placed in nomination Iredell Meares, Esq., of this city, whom the speaker said had glorified his convictions by his actions. When he realized that the Democrats were attacking the best interest of the State Mr. Meares, he said, had the courage to stand up and denounce the party and allign himself with the Republicans. He referred to the fact that in Wilmington and New Hanover county there are 32 paid officials and out of that number the people have the privilege of electing only 13. He declared with emphasis that no such condition of affairs existed anywhere else in the United States. "Sheriff" Freeman, as he is now being called by his friends and they are legion, assumed quite a new role in this instance, but he came out with flying colors, for he made one of the best speeches of the convention. The nomination of Mr. Meares was seconded by Brunswick, Columbus and Robeson counties. Mr. Tucker, in seconding the nomination for Columbus, paid a tribute to the nominee as did also Mr. Edmunds in seconding the nomination for Robeson county. All the while Mr Meares was sitting quietly in the hallway leading down by the ante rooms, just off from the jury box. He was in a reclining position, holding an umbrella tightly in his hands and occasionally the handle of the parasol would rest upon his face. To look at him one would imagine that he was dreaming of Washington and thinking over the things he expected to do for the district when he gets there. No one could doubt from the expression of the keenest satisfaction upon his face, but that he was certain of the nomination by a unanimous vote.

When Mr. Edmunds had concluded his tribute to Mr. Meares, Mr. McCaskill moved that Mr. Meares be nominated by acclamation. The motion was adopted and by a rising vote Mr. Meares was declared the unanimous choice of the Sixth District Republicans for Congress. The chairman named Messrs. Wallace and Edmunds as a committee to notify Mr. Meares of his nomination. "I guess he is around here somewhere," said the chairman with a twinkle in his eye. Mr. Meares came in the court room with his escorts amidst great applause. He was presented by Mr. Edmunds as the next representative of the Sixth District in Congress.

Mr. Meares Accepts.

For 40 minutes Mr. Meares held the convention floor. Most of the time he consumed in stating his reasons for leaving the Democratic party and alligning himself with the progressive and constructive Republican party. He spoke of the corrupt manner the Democrats have in holding primaries in this county and declared that he had not participated in one in ten years. In referring to the Wrightsville convention he said that it was a reflection of a condition prevailing throughout the district. It was not the faults of the Democratic party that attracted him to the National Republican party, however, but what the Republican party is doing at the present and what it holds out for the future. He believed in local self-government, both in the State and Nation, at the same time giving a great empire. He then discussed for some minutes some of the alleged bad things in the Democratic party and the so-called good things in the Republican party and spoke of the inconsistency of Democrats, some of them at least, in their position with reference to duty on lumber. The handling of the Chinese situation with reference to trade in cotton by the McKinley administration was a reason why the farmers of the South should vote the Republican ticket. Mr. Meares declared that the thing that should interest the people most was the present and future, the past belonging to the dead past. In conclusion he declared that he expected to go into every nook and corner of the district and preach Republican doctrine; would tell the men that if they had the courage of their convictions they would come out like men and vote the Republican ticket; if those really eRpublicans at heart would only vote their sentiments in the November election the speaker was afraid of the result in this district.

Upon motion the chairman appointed the following as a committee to confer with Nominee as to who he would desire as chairman of the executive committee: Messrs. Wallace, Edmunds and McLean. After the conference, Postmaster Wallace moved that Mr. Irvine B. Tucker, of Whiteville, be made chairman of the committee. The motion was seconded and carried unanimously.

Secretary White offered the following resolution: "Resolved, that the Sixth district of North Carolina should have an aggressive paper to expound the principles and policy of the Republican party, and that such a paper should be liberally supported by our people." The question of ways and means was discussed briefly, after which Mr. McCaskill amended the resolution of Mr. White by the addition of "Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that each member go out and solicit subscriptions for the Greensboro Daily News." The amendment was acceptable to Mr. White and the resolution was adopted. The convention then adjourned sine die.

HEAVY RAINFALL YESTERDAY

Nearly Three Inches Yesterday in Wilmington and Surrounding Country—Damage to Macadam Roads—Storm.

The northeast storm, warning of which was given by the local Weather Bureau at 10 o'clock Monday night, manifested itself in Wilmington and surrounding country yesterday morning in one of the heaviest rainfalls of the season, 2.94 inches of precipitation having been officially recorded by the bureau up to 8 o'clock last night. The rain, however, was accompanied by little wind and there was no damage or alarm from this source.

Yesterday morning the disturbance was at sea off the Georgia coast but moved apparently to the eastward. Rains fell in the South Atlantic States with heavy showers all along the coast, Savannah having reported a fall of 8.28 inches, and Charleston 5.46 inches during the preceding 24 hours. The heavy precipitation at Wilmington during the day ran the total for the month to 8.41 inches, which is quite heavy. Most of this rain has fallen within the past week or ten days and yesterday's flood found the ground perfectly saturated with the result that the rain did considerable damage to the county macadam roads and the city streets.

The greatest damage was perhaps on the Wrightsville turnpike at Delgado where the brick culvert under the heavy fill opposite the mill office washed out and the road surface above caved in. On the Federal Point road, where the grading has been done preparatory to placing the macadam, below Greenfield mill pond, the land was also so badly washed that the road was rendered impassable. The Scott's Hill road was also badly washed and damaged just beyond the Newbern railroad crossing, but there was very little, if any damage, on the Castle Haynes turnpike. Commissioner John VanB. Metts was early on the scene yesterday morning and Chairman McEachern hastened in from Castle Haynes and took charge of the work. It was found that the Wrightsville turnpike would be impassable over the culvert for several days and a force of hands was put immediately to work with the result that an improvised road and bridge were built around the cave-in, so that important traffic may be handled without farther delay. Chairman McEachern hopes to have the Federal Point road open to travel today. All points of danger have been barricaded and marked with danger lights.

Commissioner McEachern was all over the roads during the afternoon directing the work of repair and ascertaining new points of trouble. He stated last night that he never knew a time when the country round about Wilmington was more flooded than yesterday. In low places all over the county water was standing from one to five feet in depth and some residents reported loss of poultry and danger to live stock. The rain poured until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and in the city every gutter was a river and a roaring torrent. It is estimated that the damage to the county roads alone is more than a thousand dollars.

MR. JAMES HAYWARD BACON MARRIED IN PHILADELPHIA.

Many Wilmington people will be interested in the announcement that Mr. James Hayward Bacon was married June 29th to Miss Bessie Tyson, a charming young lady from Florida. The wedding took place in St. Mark's Church, Philadelphia, and Mr. Bacon and his bride have gone to his far northwestern home at Prince Rupert, British Columbia. Mr. Bacon occupies a prominent position on the staff of the engineer corps of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, a magnificent transcontinental railroad, being built from the Pacific to the Atlantic, entirely in British territory with the exception of ten miles in Maine. His sister is Mrs. W. B. McKoy, of Wilmington, and his father was the late Maj. Henry Bacon, who was for years connected with the United States engineer corps stationed at Wilmington, engaged in river and harbor work. It was Major Bacon who planned and supervised the closing of New Inlet, which at the time was one of the greatest engineering feats in the world.

Mr. Bacon took up the profession of engineering under his distinguished father and his work at present is at Prince Rupert, which is only 40 miles from Alaska. His nephew, Mr. William Ancrum McKoy, son of W. B. McKoy, Esq., of the Wimington bar, is with him and is engaged in engineer work. The railroad upon which Messrs. Bacon and McKoy are at work is one of the greatest of modern railways and the engineering done upon it is among the greatest achievements known to the profession.

FIRST MARYLAND PRIMARY.

Nominees For Congress Were Selected by Ballot Yesterday.

Baltimore, August 30.—For the first time in Maryland the Democratic and Republican parties today selected by ballot nominees for representatives in Congress. Heretofore the convention system prevailed.

The campaigns were waged in the third, fourth and fifth districts, both parties having agreed upon their candidates in the first and second districts.

In the fourth district there were four Democratic candidates for the seat now held by John Gill, who did not seek a re-nomination owing to ill health. Up to a late hour tonight there were not sufficient returns to forecast the result of the Republican primary in the sixth district now represented by George A. Pearre, (Republican). The nomination of David J. Lewis, Democrat, in the district, was practically conceded by his opponents.

Congressman Pearre entered the lists to succeed himself, but subsequently withdrew. Congressman Sydney E. Mudd (Republican) declined a re-nomination in the fifth district.

The nominees are as follows:

First District—A. Lincoln Dryden, Somerset county, Republican; J. Harry Covington, Talbot county, Democrat, re-nominated.

Second District—William B. Baker, Harfood county, Republican; J. Fred C. Talbot, Baltimore county, Democrat re-nominated.

Third District—Charles Main, Republican; George Konig, Democrat.

Fourth District—Addison E. Mullikin, Republican; Charles Linthicum, Democrat.

Fifth District—Thomas Parran, Calvert county, Republican; J. Enos Ray, Jr., Prince George's county, Democrat.

Sixth District—B. H. Warner, Jr., Montgomery county, re-nominated, Republicans; David J. Lewis, Allegheny county, Democrat.

PLANS FOR WINTER AND FALL

First Official Announcement of Work Being Mapped Out for Members of Y. M. C. A.—Increase Usefulness.

For the past month Secretary J. B. Huntington and Associate Secretary Henry G. Bowden have been planning largely for the Fall work of the Y. M. C. A. and with the help of Mr. Ben A. Thees, who has accepted the place of assistant physical director, they will endeavor to surpass any Winter's work that has ever been done here in the city.

These three are young men interested in the lives of the young men of the city and all the plans have been arranged so that all three sides of the Association triangle—Spirit, Mind and Body—will have its full share in the work. Mr. Bowden has been given direct charge of the religious work and will at the opening of the Winter's work start the regular Sunday afternoon meeting for men, bringing in from time to time men from distant points to address these meetings. The Bible study part of the work will have even a more important part than it did last year. Classes for the men in the dormitory, for the men and boys in the gymnasium, and for the men interested in the general work will be started at that time. The Yoke Fellows, whose work has been so successful thus far, will reach out to all parts of the county. The social activities will be many and varied and will furnish healthful and clean entertainment for large numbers of men and women.

The Association will co-operate with the Boys' Brigade in its Lyceum course. The game room for the boys and the pool room for the men will be put in ship-shape and no doubt will draw many to the building. The educational department which has never been strong, will be pushed this Fall and classes organized for working boys. The library and reading room will furnish good reading for all.

In the physical department, which has done exceptionally good work during the Summer months, promises to be stronger than ever under the guiding hand of Mr. Huntington, who has been actively engaged in physical work for the past ten years, assisted by Mr. Thees, who has taken an active interest in the gymnasium work here for several years. Several new classes will be organized, viz., a class for professional men, one for the ministers of the city, and one for the High School boys, besides the regular classes for busy men, senior members, juniors and boys. Graded work will be established in the department and physical examinations will be taken of those men who want special work. The gymnasium apparatus will be overhauled and some new pieces added. In the bath room a new tank will be put in for a larger hot water supply and a new locker bath department.

For several years the membership of the Association has not grown as it should, but this Fall the membership committee hopes to put this association on a par with the other associations of the State in the membership line and to this end Chairman Koch has some plans on foot that, when worked out, will add many members to the association. The greatest problem, the greatest peril, the mightiest force, the costliest offender, the strongest defender, the riches asset and the highest hope of Wilmington is her boys and young men and the association not only has an open door for all boys and young men who desire recreation and help, but it will reach out and effect the lives of many who cannot take advantage of this mighty force in the lives of young men for good.

Recital in Fayetteville.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer says: "Prof. George A. Johnson, organist and choirmaster of St. James' church, Wilmington, is in the city for a few days and will give a recital in St. John's church Wednesday evening immediately after the short service, at which the usual address will be omitted. Prof. Johnson is acknowledged one of the leading organists of the country and received his organ education in England, where he is familiar with the leading organists of the world. His recital Wednesday evening will include among some of the simpler and more popular music, the great Fugue in G minor, Bach, the greatest of all organ compositions. Prof. Johnson played at the services in St. John's last Sunday to the great delight of all those who attended the services there."

Excursion to Charlotte.

Probably the last excursion of the season from up the Seaboard road arrived in the city yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock from Charlotte. Owing to the rainy weather, very likely, the crowd was not anything like as large as was expected. The excursionists will remain in the city and at the beaches until tomorrow when the return trip will be made.

Slight Change in Schedule.

Beginning tomorrow, Thusday, the 6 P. M. beach car will leave Front and Princess streets at 6:10 P. M. instead of the even hour as now. The extra service express car, heretofore leaving at 6:10 o'clock, will be taken off and the regular car operated at that time. Patrons are asked to make note of the change.

NOT SURPRISED AT TAFT.

His Stand For Tariff Revision Expected After Conferences.

Washington, August 30.—President Taft's stand for a revision of the tariff schedule when needed, and his recent declaration in his letter to Chairman McKinley, of the Republican Campaign Committee, causesd no surprise to those who knew of conferences which the President has had with Secretary MacVeigh during the Summer at Beverly.

Those who have been close to that situation do not attempt to say that the Secretary of the Treasury has moulded the opinion of the President, but they point to Secretary MacVeigh's Boston speech last December, in which he declared the Payne law to be a step in the right direction and predicted that it opened the way to a decided improvement.

That Mr. MacVeigh's counsel on the tariff law has been highly valued by the President is an open secret. He has been one of the staunchest champions for a tariff board which would take up the whole subject of protection from a statistical and scientific standpoint.

ATLANTIC FLEET MANEUVERS.

Begin at Virginia Capes 12th of Sept. —Practice Grounds.

New York, Aug. 30.—Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, announced today that battle practice for the fleet will begin off the Virginia capes about September 12th. In a letter making this announcement he asks the co-operation of all passing ships to prevent inconvenience and interference with the practice firing. The practice grounds extend for a distance of from 30 to 60 miles off the capes. Day firing will last a week or ten days, but the night practice will be confined to the nights of September 12th and 13th.

The importance of deciding quickly whether to pass ahead or astern of vessels towing the targets is impressed on all ship masters and they are asked to indicate promptly by marked charts which course they will follow.

SCHOOL BOOKS IN DEMAND.

Serious Situation Over New Ruling in State of Virginia.

Norfolk, Va., August 30.—There is a serious hitch in the arrangement of local book dealers throughout Virginia in the matter of getting books with which to supply the pupils of the high schools of the State for the term beginning in September. The trouble is due to the ruling of the Attorney General of Virginia that foreign book concerns must "domesticate" by paying a franchise and license tax similar to those required of Virginia publishers before they can furnish the books that the State Board of Education this Summer designated for high school usage.

Theatrical

With the announcement that "Ishmael" the widely read novel by Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth, has been dramatized and that the play will be one of the important theatrical productions of the season, interest in the work of this prominent writer has been revived to an incredible degree. Mrs. Southworth, whose maiden name was Emma Dorothy Eliza Nevitte, was born in Washington, D. C., on December 26th, 1819. She was educated by her stepfather, Joshua L. Henshaw at whose school she was graduated in 1835. In 1840 she was married to Fred H. Southworth, of Utica, N. Y. She taught in a public school in the National capital from 1844 to 1849 and while so occupied began to write stories, the first of which "The Irish Refugee" appeared in the Baltimore Saturday Visitor. Subsequently she wrote for the National Era and later became one of its regular contributors. In its columns appeared her first novel, "Retribution." Originally it was intended to make of it a short story, but it grew into a long novel and afterwards was issued in book form. With unusual rapidity she wrote her succeeding stories, sometimes issuing as many as three in a single year, and most of them have attained distinction. Her works display great dramatic power and contain many pages of unusually good descriptive passages of Southern life and scenery to which they are chiefly devoted. In 1853 she settled in a villa on the Potomac Heights, near Washington, where she lived until 1876, when she moved to Yonkers, N. Y. Her published novels outnumber three score and in 1872 a uniform edition of them was issued at Philadelphia. This edition contained 42 stories. Apart from "Ishmael" and its sequel, "Self Raised," which achieved an instant popularity that placed it among the greatest successes ever scored by a popular novel up to the time of its appearance, the chief books from this gifted author's pen include "The Fatal Secret," "Unknown," "Gloria," "The Trail of the Serpent," "Nearest and Dearest," "The Mother's Secret," "An Exile's Bride," "The Deserted Wife," "The Mother-in-Law," "Children of the Isle," "The Foster Sisters," "The Bridal Eve," "Vivia," and "The Fatal Marriage." Many of these have been translated into French, German and Spanish, and editions of her works have been published in Paris, Leipsic, Madrid and Montreal. The list enumerated includes those of her works which achieved unusual distinction. Beside them many stories were published serially in the New York Ledger and have never been issued in book form. Mrs. Southworth died at her home in Yonkers in 1899.

"Ishmael" will be seen at the Academy tomorrow night and seats will go on sale at the Crystal Palace this morning.

NEGRO GAVE WORTHLESS CHECK

Hurried Departure From Barber Shop When Officers Approached.

While Constable Savage was in the suburbs searching for a negro by the name of Bryan wanted for giving a worthless check at Bolton for $200, the gentleman of color was located by members of the police force in a barber chair at one of the colored shops in the down town district. This was late Monday afternoon. The barber had about half completed his task of shaving the negro when the police officers approached. Knowing full well that he had committed a crime, several of them, perhaps, and believing that the officers were looking for him, the negro forgot that he was in a barber's chair and all else. The one thing in his mind was how to escape. He leaped from the chair and ran out a side door at lightning-like speed, leaving his coat, a gold watch, fountain pen, hat and umbrella. The police, as soon as they discovered the fact that the negro had taken to his heels, began a search but had not secured any trace of him up to last night.

It is stated that Bryan was arrested in Bolton on several charges—disorderly conduct, carrying concealed weapons, resisting an officer, etc., and a bond of $200 was required for his appearance at court. He represented to a citizen of that place that he had money in one of the Wilmington banks and would give a check for the amount if he would stand his security. This arrangement was made and the negro was released. Bryan caught the next train for Wilmington and drew from the bank the $7 or $8 he had deposited there. The man who went the negro's security came here Monday afternoon and after ascertaining that the negro did not have any funds in the bank and never did have enough to cover the $200 check, secured a warrant. Constable Savage had information that the negro was in the eastern section of the city. He was in that section making a search when the police found the negro in the barber shop. The remainder of the story has been told.

GRISCOM ISSUES CHALLENGE.

To Faction In New York Politics Which Opposes Roosevelt.

New York, August 30.—A formal challenge to that faction of the Republican party of New York State which encompassed the defeat of former President Roosevelt when the latter's name was presented to the State committee for temporary chairmas of the State Convention, was issued today by Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York County Committee.

Mr. Griscom was in conference during the better part of the day with Frederick Greiner, the Republican leader of Erie county; Collector of the Port William Loeb; F. J. H. Kracks, State committeeman from Brooklyn; State Senator Frederick M. Davenport of Oneida county; D. R. James, president of the Brooklyn Young Republican Club, and former Mayor Cutler, of Rochester.

After carefully considering the situation the conferees gained the conviction that they could depend upon at least 650 of the 1,015 delegates and issued a formal statement to the effect that they would not only present Mr. Roosevelt's name for temporary chairman of the convention, but do their utmost to have a direct nomination plank inserted in the platform.

COTTON BILLS OF LADING.

Shipping of Cotton to England May Be Seriously Curtailed.

Washington, August 30.—With the prospect that American cotton shipments to England may be curtailed seriously this year because of the hitch with English banks over guarantees of American bills of lading, a committee of New York bankers will go to London for conference with the English financiers.

The British banks have issued an ultimatum that after November 1st, they will not receive cotton bills of lading from this country unless they are guaranteed by American banks. This step was induced by the recent alleged frauds which resulted in the failure of Knight, Yancey & Co., of Decatur, Ala., which was followed by heavy losses in Liverpool. The American National banks under the law can not guarantee cotton bills of lading and there is great apprehension that unless the English banks recede from their position the annual movement to England will be crippled.

REACTION ON COTTON MARKET

Showed Continued Nervousness During the Day With a Decline of 65 Points on August—New Crop Market Factor.

New York, Aug. 30.—The cotton market showed continued nervousness at the opening today, but this gradually wore off as there were no further developments of consequence in August and after quite a sharp advance during the middle of the day new crop positions reacted under realizing or local selling with the close barely steady at a decline of 65 points on August and with other months net unchanged to 3 points lower.

The first sale of August was at 20 cents, or 25 points net higher, but this was followed by a sharp break to 19.25 under scattering liquidation attributed to a trailing long interest influence by the circulation of short notices estimated at about 30,000 bales. Later August rallied and during the late trading held around 19.50 with the close at 19.40 bid. Trading in August comes to an end at noon tomorrow. Altogether it is estimated that about 110,000 bales have been delivered to the bulls on August contracts. New crop positions opened steady at an advance of four points to a decline of 1 point in response to steady cables. When August weakened from the initial figures the crop eased off 2 to 3 points from the opening prices, but they soon firmed up again when it was seen that the bulls were taking up addition notices and later in the morning advanced sharply on a private report making the condition of the crop only 70.8 per cent. compared with 75 last month, which suggested a government report on Friday under the ten year average. September led the advance on covering by Wall street shorts and it looked for a time as though bullish new crop advices were leading to a broadening of general demand for the later positions. After showing a net advance of 10 to 24 points, however, offerings increased and the market was rather easy in the late trading, with the close at practically the lowest point of the day. Southern spot markets as officially reported early were generally unchanged to 3-8c lower. Weather news showed no fresh feature and the weekly report of the weather bureau did not indicate that there had been any general breaking of the Texas drouth; conditions elsewhere being considered favorable.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today 21,200 bales against 12,394 bales last week and 22,581 bales last year. For the week 90,000 bales against 55,476 last week and 82,010 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 2,617 bales against 2,604 bales last year. At Houston 7,599 bales against 3,954 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 19.75; middling gulf 20.00. Sales 3,900 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Aug. 30.—The most interesting development in the primary cotton goods market was the naming of prices on fancy and staple ginghams for Spring 1911 delivery. These prices were the same as those prevailing for the current Fall season. The announcement was a surprise as higher prices were expected. In the men's wear market the sentiment is improving. Duplicates are being received in worsted, although the clothiers have not started out with Spring lines. The cotton yarn market is quiet with little doing in drills for export.

STOCKS DRIFTED AIMLESSLY

Demand Shriveled Up on Market Yesterday—Movement Out of New York Gaining Strength. General Conditions.

New York, Aug. 30.—The demand for stocks shriveled up today and prices were allowed to drift aimlessly. The party in the speculation which has been attmpting for several days past to move prices grew discouraged over the lack of response to these efforts. Last week's crop damage rumors had incited some short selling and this short interest was made the fulcrum for the short uplift which has occurred since. The reduction of the shorts leaves no sustaining force in a market otherwise stagnant.

Some apprehension of coming events enters into the reactionary tone which developed. The period of cash withdrawals from New York bank reserves is not propitious to operations on the long side in stocks. The current of the movement out of New York is gaining strength. Shipments to Canada and to the domestic interior are on a large scale and are proving day by day that the usual recourse is being made to New York supplies for the purpose of moving the crops. The rate of depletion of bank reserves promises to be rapid for a time, the decrease this week having run already apparently to over $4,000,000.

The railroad world is showing deep interest and some concern over the progress of the hearings by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the rate advances proposed by the railroads. The matter has a repressive effect on speculation, even in the absence of clear indications of the final decisions.

There were brokers also, who professed to have reliable forecasts of Col. Roosevelt's coming addresses, the effect of which on stocks was feared. The day's business was congested again in Reading, Union Pacific and United States Steel.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $1,087,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day 295,200 shares, including C. & O. 2,200; L. & N., 200; Reading 77,500; Sloss Sheffield 100; Southern Railway 200; Southern Railway preferred 100; Union Pacific 51,000; U. S. THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, August 30.—Desertions from the bull side were numerous today because of the poorness of the export call for wheat. The consequent decline resulted in moderate sales to exporters, but it is not certain that the wheat was sold to go to Europe. A steady tone prevailed at the close, although the final figures were almost the lowest of the session and showed a net drop of 1-2 to 3-4 to 7-8. Corn at the end of the day was 1-4c. lower to 3-8c. higher and oats down 1-4 to 5-8. Provisions had an irregular wind up, a shade off to 12 1-2 up.

AUGUST COTTON A FACTOR.

Market Fell Under the Influence of New Crop Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Aug. 30.—Large tenders on August aggregating over 30,000 bales proved that the uncovered short interest were not as large as thought. With the August cover a matter of history the market fell under the influence of the new crop. Early in the day the report that the trade behind the bulls would carry on their campaign into September causing a sharp advance, until a level was reached at which cotton was sold against offerings at Houston for shipment here for delivery. A running decline followed with a loss of 20 points on September. One of the incidents of the August delivery was the arrival of a special train from Boston ith a thousand bales from one of the New England mills. The close was barely steady with the buyers of the morning selling freely.

RAILROADS NEGLIGENT.

Corporation Commission Makes Ruling in Raleigh Cases.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 30.—The Corporation Commission ruled today that in the recent union station collision, Southern and Seaboard Air Line, both were negligent in not providing adequate special rules for entering the union station yard during the time extensive repairs were in progress and not employing a regular switchman for yard switches at night as well as day. This was the collision in which a Seaboard northbound train ran into the rear of a negro moonlight excursion train in which two excursionists were killed and fourteen injured.

In the Norfolk & Southern collision, the Commission holds that the fault was with Engineer Smith, of the yard engine, who was out on the main line without authority, undertaking to go to his turn-table on the time that belonged to incoming passenger trains. In this accident Smith paid the death penalty for his unwarranted venture and risk, and Fireman Hodge of the passenger train was killed.

MAYOR RATHBONE NEAR DEATH.

Aide to President Lincoln Dying in Insane Asylum.

Hanover, Aug. 30.—Major Henry Reed Rathbone, who was an aide to President Lincoln and received a stab wound in attempting to save the life of his chief on the night of the assassination is near death in the criminal ward of the insane asylum at Hildesheim of which he has long been an inmate.

Many years ago, while occupying the post of American consul here, Major Rathbone murdered his wife. He was convicted but declared to be insane and was committed to the institution where he has since remained and lived in luxury. For a long time he made periodical attempts to secure his liberty, but lately gave up his efforts to gain his freedom and is awaiting the end with tranquility.

FIRST IDAHO PRIMARY.

Liquor Question Has Been Main Issue. Result Unknown.

Boise, Idaho, Aug. 30.—Idaho had her first direct primary election today. Many voters wrote the names of secondary candidates on their ballots. This will delay the count and it will be another day before the result will be known definitely.

Governor James H. Brady is conceded to be ahead of B. E. O'Neil in the race for the Republican nomination for governor.

Congressman Hamer (regular) is leading his insurgent opponent, former Congressman French, in the initial count for the Republican nomination. The liquor question has been the main issue in the campaign.

No definite returns are available on the Democratic gubernatorial candidates, J. H. Howley and J. C. Rice.

HUNTINGTON RIOTS.

Four Companies of Military Are on Guard There.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 30.—Four companies of State militia are on duty here tonight to prevent any further outbreaks from rioters intent upon lynching Thomas Wayne and Charles Clyburn, the two negroes accused of murder.

The authorities seem to be in control of the situation now and no further demonstrations are expected. The fact that a special grand jury has been called for tomorrow to indict those who were arrested for participation in the riot last night and the authorities' assertion that all other offenders will be similarly dealt with, has dampened the mob spirit.

TIMBERMAN'S ESCAPE.

Grasps Rope, Thus Saving Himself From Falling Mile to Bottom.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 30.—One of the most remarkable escapes from death in the annals of the Lake Superior copper industry, occurred yesterday at the Red Jacket shaft of the Calumet and Hecla Mine, when Mike B. Sunrich, a timberman, in stepping from a repair cage to the main cage, fell into the shaft.

He fell 150 feet before he grasped the rope attached to the skip, saving himself from a fall of a mile to the bottom of the shaft, and instant death.

His hands were badly burned on the wire rope, but otherwise he was uninjured. Sunrich was dangling from the cable when rescued.

CHOLERA APPEARS IN BERLIN.

Two Cases in House Where Man Servant Has Just Died.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—Two new cases supposed to be cholera, were discovered in Berlin today. Both are in a house in the northern part of the city where a man servant died last night, aparently from cholera.

you know me," the colonel said to the crowds at Eads.

"You bet we do," the crowds shouted back.

"I trust you with all my heart," the colonel continued.

"And we trust you," the response came back.

Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester and James R. Garfield, ex-Secretary of the Interior, traveled with Colonel Roosevelt all day. Gov. Stubbs, of Kansas, is to join the party in the morning and go on to Osawatomie.

Elaborate preparations have been made for the celebration at Osawatomie. Gov. Stubbs is to make the speech introducing Col. Roosevelt at a 22 acre park on the spot where John Brown fought the Missouri raiders on August 30th, 1856.

When Col. Roosevelt spoke in Pueblo today. Representative Martin, of Pueblo, a Democrat, was on the platform with him.

In opening his address Col. Roosevelt, turning to Gen. T. J. Downen, president of the Y. M. C. A., declared that wherever he found a veteran of the great war, who was chairman of the Y. M. C. A. he could give him his unqualified approval.

"I believe in decency," continued the colonel. "The Y. M. C. A. stands for manliness and decency. If a man does well by his family and home he makes a good citizen. Whenever you get for the head of the Y. M. C. A. a man who lost his arm at Chickamauga you may know he is all right. There is only one person I would put ahead of him, and that person is his wife, who has been the mother of six children. I put the veteran of the great war ahead of every other citizen, but I put the woman who has made him a good wife ahead of them all."

Speaking there of New Mexico and Arizona he said: "I wish I could go down to New Mexico and Arizona, but this is the nearest place to them I will reach on this trip. Many of my friends there have written asking me to advise them about their constitutions. I have not felt familiar enough with the conditions to do so. But there is one point upon which I would like to advise them, and that is to leave the constitutions easy of amendment at any time, when the people feel that they should be amended.

"Experience has shown that not only doctrinaries, but also designing corporation attorneys often get put into constitutions matters which are not thoroughly understood by the people at the time and my plea is that the people of the new States should be left with their hands free so that if at any time they find that something has been put into their constitutions which they didn't know was there, or if they find that something is working badly which they believed would work well, they shall have an opportunity to easily make any change that is necessary."

Upon the conclusion of his remarks, Col. Roosevelt laid the cornerstone of a Young Men's Christian Association building.

Osawatomie, Kan., Aug. 30.—This was John Brown day at the Osawatomie celebration. Tomorrow will be Theodore Roosevelt day and all signs indicate that it will prove the most notable in the town's history. Today marked the 54th anniversary of the battle of Osawatomie. Tomorrow the ex-President will dedicate the battlefield as a State Park.

Today's programme was made of drills, band concerts and speech making. Congressman William A. Calderhead in a spirited address urged that the people of Kansas provide a monument of John Brown to be placed in the hall of fame at Washington "to off-set that of Lee." The burst of applause that greeted this sentiment made it plain that "John Brown's spirit" is still marching on.

VIRGINIA BANKS.

Wonderful Increase in Their Deposits and Total Resources.

Washington Aug. 30.—National banks of Virginia have more individual deposits than the whole South had 30 years ago and during the last 10 years the deposits and resources of the National banks of the State have more than trebled.

The aggregate resources of the National banks there now are more than $20,000,000 and the individual deposits are nearly $70,000,000. Ten years ago the deposits were less than $21,000,000 and the resources were less than forty millions.

THE FOREST FIRES.

Four Hundred Men Fighting Flames. Condition Better.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 30.—Reports today to the Washington Forest Fire Association indicate a generally improved condition. The only alarming fire is that in the Snoqualmie forest, in King county, where a 15 mile front of flame spreads out fan-like from Echo Lake to a point near North Bend, encircling the town of Preston. Four hundred men are fighting the fire, but it will not be extinguished until a soaking rain comes.

EXCESSIVE RAILROAD RATES.

Government to Prosecute in the Eads Bridge Cases.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The case of the government against the St. Louis Terminal Company and 47 other defendants, mainly railroads which enter the city of St. Louis, was docketed in the Supreme Court of the United States today.

The government alleges unreasonable charges for transportation of passengers and freight over the Eads bridge. The circuit court of Eastern Missouri divided equally on the case.

EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY.

Calabrians, Rudely Awakened, Flee in Panic Into the Streets.

Rome, Aug. 30.—A strong earth shock was felt throughout the compartment of Calabria at 3:15 o'clock this morning.

The inhabitants, rudely awakened from their sleep, fled panic-stricken into the streets. No casualties have been reported.

MORE UNREST IN NICARAGUA.

Madriz Troops Still Control Part of Country—Situation.

San Juan Del Sur, August 30.—Though all telegraphic communication with Managua is cut, it is reported that the local authorities there are levying a forced loan for the payment of the troops. It is said also that the Estradists are in possession of Bluefields, Chontales, Managua and a part of Granada, but that the remainder of the country is in the hands of the Madriz forces. Two hundred of the followers of Madriz are reported to be barricaded in the San Francisco church at Granada and refuse to surrender. Another report reaching here is to the effect that groups of Nicaraguans are threatening to invade their country from Costa Rica.

Washington, August 30.—Senor Castrillo made public the text of a dispatch from General Estrada in which the revolutionary leader said:

"Being triumphant in the revolution, I now occupy the principal strongholds in the Republic at Leon, Managua, Chinandoga, Corinto, Masaya, Granada and Segoviasa. My government exercises authority peacefully over all Nicaragua."

SENATORS BY PEOPLE.

Tennessee Statesman Favors Election by a Popular oVte.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 30.—United States Senator James B. Frazier in welcoming the American Bar Association today said:

"If the great statesmen of the day make mistakes the people will help to correct them." He advocated the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people, and declared that rapidly changing conditions would eventually demand a change in the Federal constitution whereby great offices would be filled by popular vote.

"I am not afraid," he said, "to trust the American people with any subject embracing the principles of government. There is more wisdom in the ballot box than in deliberative assembly."

KANSAS DEMOCRATS.

Platform Declares for Long and Short Haul Provision.

Topeka, Kans, Aug. 30.—Members of the State Democratic party council convened here today and adopted a platform declaring for the amendment of the long and short haul clause of the Hepburn bill, so that the common carrier may not charge more for a short haul than for a long one; for an increase in the powers of the interstate Commerce Commission; for a maximum two cents passenger fare law and for the publication of campaign contributions. The platform also declares for the initiative and referendum for the Massachusetts ballot law in modified form, and for the direct election of United States Senators.

RIDICULOUS AND UNSEEMLY.

So Says Archbold About Woman Detective Story.

New York, August 30.—John D. Archbold, vice-president and director of the Standard Oil Company, gave out a formal denial today of reports which have been sent out from Boston that a beautiful young woman whose chief charm is a profusion of Titian hair, had been employed by his company to ferret out secrets and thwart its enemies.

"Standard Oil does not employ red-haired sirens in its business," said Mr. Archbold. "These statements are a tissue of falsehoods, ridiculous upon their face and unseemly."

BLOWN THIRTY FEET, UNHURT.

Irrigation Engineer Goes to Examine Charge of Dynamite.

Greeley, Col., Aug. 30.—Blown 30 feet into the air yesterday by a heavy charge of dynamite, which he supposed had failed to ignite, S. L. Hoffman, an engineer employed on an irrigation project near here, escaped with only a few minor injuries.

Workmen who witnessed the explosion and who rushed forward in the expectation of finding a mangled body, were met by Hoffman, dazed but practically unhurt.

INSURGENTS WANT HIM.

Senator Dolliver Intimates That Roosevelt Will Lead.

Manitowoc, Wis., Aug. 30.—That former President Roosevelt would be the "insurgent" candidate for President in 1912 was intimated by United States Senator J. P. Dolliver, of Iowa, in the course of an address he delivered tonight. The reference to the former President was a very brief one, Senator Dolliver said that Mr. Roosevelt would again be writing messages to Congress after the 1912 election.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 30.—The tax problem will be treated from a scientific standpoint by delegates attending the annual convention of the International Tax Association, which opened a four days' session in Milwaukee today.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 30.—Edward Savage, the negro murderer, who killed Mrs. Ada Snell in Jersey City last October, was electrocuted in the State prison tonight. SUPREME COURT VACANCIES.

Discussed at Luncheon Given in Honor President Taft.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 30.—After his usual golf game at Myopia today President Taft motored over to Ipswich and was the guest of honor at a "judiciary luncheon" given by Charles P. Searles, of Boston, at his Summer home. Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the Supreme court, and United States Judges Colt, Putnam and Lowell, of the first circuit, were among the guests. It is said that the two vacancies on the Supreme bench that the President soon must fill were discussed informally.

It is reported here tonight that Mr. Taft is still thinking strongly of appointing Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers as an Associate Justice. There is said to be a strong likelihood that the second appointment will be made from the eighth judicial circuit. Nothing has occurred to indicate a change in the plan to nominate Gov. Hughes as the chief justice.

The President's activity in canvassing the situation for Supreme court material has led to a renewal of the reports that he may call the Senate in extraordinary session to confirm his nominations in October.
